

CONTRIBUTORS

Dietmar Koch teaches Philosophy at the University of Tübingen. He studied Philosophy, German studies and Classics in Tübingen. He is a scientific employee at the Department of Philosophy since 1990. Chair of the »Tübinger Gesellschaft für Phänomenologische Philosophie« (Tübingen Society for Phenomenological Philosophy). Coordinator of many publication series for the Attempto publishing house Tübingen. His research includes: Ancient Philosophy, German Idealism, Hermeneutics, Phenomenology, History of Philosophy, Philosophy of Art. (dietmar.koch@uni-tuebingen.de)

Ralf Elm is an adjunct Professor in Philosophy/ Ethics at the University of Education in Weingarten. Academic career at the universities of Dortmund and Tübingen. Research assistant 2000-2002 at the Center for European Integration Research in Bonn. Since 2002 University of Education Weingarten, since 2008 management and organization of the general studies there. Systematic focus: Practical Philosophy, Ethics and their didactics; Cultural Philosophy and Intercultural Ethics; Education and Ethics; Phenomenology and Hermeneutics. Historical focus: Philosophy of Antiquity, Philosophy of the 20th century. Publications (selection): »Prudence and Experience at Aristotle«, Paderborn 1996; »Ethics, Politics and Cultures in the Globalization Process«, Bochum 2003, »Horizons of the Concept of Horizon. Hermeneutic, Phenomenological and Intercultural studies«, Sankt Augustin 2004; »Reason and Freedom in the Culture of Europe. Origins, Change, Challenges«, Freiburg 2006; Boundary Lines. Interculturality and Globalization: Questions for the Social Sciences and Humanities«, Schwalbach 2010. (elm@ph-weingarten.de)

Ion Copoeru is Professor of Modern Philosophy, Phenomenology of Law and Applied Ethics at "Babeş-Bolyai" University from Cluj-Napoca and Fulbright fellow at the University of Memphis (USA) (March-July 2018). His research interests are located mainly in Phenomenology (intersubjectivity, everydayness, law, and addictions) and Ethics in Professions, with focus on the professions of Law and Healthcare. He is author of Aparență și sens [Appearance and meaning] (2000) and Structuri ale constituirii [Structures of Phenomenological Constitution] (2001), editor or co-editor of several collective volumes, such as Phenomenology 2005, Vol. III (with Hans Rainer Sepp) (Zeta Books, 2007), Phenomenology 2010, Vol. III (with P. Kontos and A. Serrano) (Zeta Books, 2011), Recherches phénoménologiques actuelles en Roumanie et France (with Alexander Schnell) (Olms, 2006) and author or co-author of a series of articles and book chapters on the above mentioned topics. He is also vice-president of the Romanian Society for Phenomenology and member of the editorial committee of the journal Studia Phaenomenologica.

Livia Dioşan holds a PhD in Philosophy at Babes-Bolyai University and she is one of the founding members of the Forum of the Lacanian Field, Romania. She coordinated European youth networks and Erasmus+ strategic partnerships for education. Her main fields of research are Phenomenology, Logic, and Lacanian Psychoanalysis. Her current interests are the topological aspects of psychoanalysis and their practical implications. She published several books on Logic and reasoning for the Romanian national exam and she is also author of articles and studies on Lacan, Freud, and Levinas, such as: Logical Time (2016), The tents of Shem and the speech of Japheth. On translation and the Other in the writing of Emmanuel Lévinas (2018), Ethical Responsibility as a Resolution to Anxiety. A Psychoanalytical Perspective on the Face of the Other (2018), Des hystériques aux mystiques: les souffrances d'amour et la jouissance autre (2018). (liviadiosan@gmail.com)

Cristian Bodea is Scientific Researcher at Dept. of Social and Human Sciences, Romanian Academy, Cluj-Napoca. His research focus on contemporary philosophy, phenomenology, embodiment and phenomenology of language. He is interested in the psychoanalytical approach of the unconscious as well. His later book titled „Hiatus. Problema fenomenologică a inconștientului” (Hiatus. The Phenomenological Problem of the Unconscious) tries to make a connection between phenomenology and psychoanalysis in order to expand both the concept of language as well as the one of the unconscious. Cristian Bodea is also member of the Romanian Society for Phenomenology, the Centre for Applied Philosophy and of the Forum of the Lacanian Field - România. (cristibodea@academia-cj.ro)

Flaviu-Victor Câmpean is affiliate Lecturer at Babeș-Bolyai University, Cluj-Napoca. He teaches Modern and Contemporary Philosophy and Philosophy of Law. He holds a Ph.D. in Philosophy with a thesis entitled The Melancholy Identity in Søren Kierkegaard. He underwent study trips in Lyon and Copenhagen. He is also a member of the Forum of the Lacanian Field, Romania. His interests and research include Modern and Contemporary Continental Philosophy with an emphasize on the 19th and 20th centuries, Classical and Contemporary Theology, Psychoanalysis, French Phenomenology, Political Philosophy, the Philosophical and Psychoanalytical approaches of Cinema and Literature. (flaviucampean@gmail.com)

Alina Noveanu is Lecturer (Assistant Professor) at the Faculty of History and Philosophy of the “Babeș-Bolyai” University Cluj, Department of Philosophy. She is second chair of the »Tübinger Gesellschaft für phänomenologische Philosophie«. With Dietmar Koch she is co-editor of the series Poiesis – (Philosophie-Dichtung-Bild.). Research fields: Hermeneutics, Phenomenology, German Modern and Contemporary Philosophy. Books: Platon, triumful întrebării (2008), Arta interpretării – dialogurile hermeneutice ale lui Hans Georg Gadamer (2010). She is member of the editorial committee of the journal Studia Universitatis “Babeș-Bolyai” Philosophia.

Jörg Magenau is a free-lance author and literary critic. He writes for Süddeutsche Zeitung, Radio Berlin Brandenburg and Deutschlandfunk. Last publications: “Bestseller, Bücher die wir liebten – und was sie über uns verraten” (Hoffmann & Campe, Hamburg, 2018), “Princeton 1966. Die abenteuerliche Reise der Gruppe 47” (Klett-Cotta, Stuttgart, 2016) and “Brüder unterm Sternenzelt. Friedrich Georg und Ernst Jünger. Eine Biographie” (Klett-Cotta, Stuttgart, 2012).

Niels Weidtmann is Scientific Director of the Center for Interdisciplinary and Intercultural Studies Tübingen (former Forum Scientiarum) at the University of Tübingen. He has studied philosophy and biology at the University of Würzburg and at Duke-University in Durham, N.C., USA, and got his PhD in philosophy from University of Würzburg. His research interests are in Intercultural Philosophy, Phenomenology, Hermeneutics, Anthropology, and the Philosophy of Science. He is the current President of the Society for Intercultural Philosophy and author of the book Interkulturelle Philosophie. Aufgaben – Dimensionen – Wege (Tübingen 2016), editor of two book series and has published a wide range of articles. (niels.weidtmann@uni-tuebingen.de)

Philipp Thomas is Professor of Philosophy and Ethics at the University of Education in Weingarten. Before that, he was Adjunct Professor at Tübingen University. His main research and teaching areas are Philosophy Education, Theory of Negativity, Philosophy of 20th Century, e.g. Phenomenology. He holds a PhD in Philosophy with a thesis on Philosophy of Nature and Phenomenology of the Body. His Habilitation thesis Negative Identität und Lebenspraxis. Zur praktisch philosophischen rekonstruktion unverfügbarer Subjektivität (2006) deals with questions of personal identity as part of practical philosophy (non-knowledge, non-identity and appropriate life-practices). Other books: Selbst-Natur-Sein. Leibphänomenologie als Naturphilosophie. Husserl, Heidegger, Merleau-Ponty, Schmitz (2014), Von der Tiefe des Lebens. Ein Wörterbuch der Melancholie (2020) (thomas01@ph-weingarten.de)

Mihai Ometiță is a postdoctoral fellow at The Research Institute of the Univ. of Bucharest (ICUB). He was a research fellow at New Europe College – Institute for Advanced Study (NEC), holds a PhD from Univ. of East Anglia (UK) and a Research MA from Univ. of Groningen (The Netherlands). He co-edited Wittgenstein and Phenomenology (Routledge 2018), contributed to Colours in the Development of Wittgenstein's Philosophy (Palgrave Macmillan 2017), and writes on themes from Wittgenstein's manuscripts in relation to phenomenological philosophy.

Marcel Hosu is a doctoral student at the Eberhard Karls University of Tübingen and an associate researcher at the European College in Cluj-Napoca. His research themes are: art and truth in Heidegger, the tautological thought of Parmenides, the problems of speech and truth in Psychoanalysis, and the theme of aletheia in Heidegger's late thought. His main areas of research are: phenomenology, psychoanalysis, linguistics, poetry, ontology and ancient philosophy. (marcelhosu@gmail.com)

Virgil Ciomoș is University Professor and founding President of the Romanian Society for Phenomenology. He is also a psychoanalyst and founding President of the Forum of the Lacanian Field - Romania. Authored books: Être(s) de passage (Zeta Books, 2008), De l'état d'exception à l'expérience du sublime (Paideia, 2006, 2009, 2017), Conscience et changement dans la Critique de la raison pure. Une perspective architectonique sur le kantisme (Humanitas, 2006), Temps et éternité. Physique IV 10-14. Interprétation phéno-ménologique (Paideia, 1997, 2001).